August Jansen, who might be styled "the amorous coachman." languishes in Jefferson Market prison in default of $2,500 ball pending his trial in Special Sessions for misdemeanor in writing annoying and threatening letters to Annie Duncan, daughter of John P. Duncan, a retired greeer, who lives at b East Sixty-fourth street.

August spent a whole year on Blackwell's Island once for his persistent attention to Miss Duncan.

He is red-headed and homely. In 1884 he was Mr. Duncan's coachman, in which capac-ity he accompanied Miss Annie, then eighteen years old, on her shopping tours, and worshipped her with all the artior of his soul. On regaining his liberty he resumed his love-letter writing, but more cautiously. He paced the street before the house of his lady love, always scrupulously dressed, but signed in vain till recently, when he began to address letters to her that carried the idea that a correspondence was in progress between the second letters to her that carried the loca that a cor-respondence was in progress between them. He redoubled his annoyance of her by fol-lowing her wherever she went. On her shop-ping tours she could see his red mustache by looking over her shoulder, and it began to ted on her health.

This went on till Miss Duncan became en-

This went on till Miss Duncan became engaged to stalwart Waiter Watson, jr., son of the Wall street banker. Young Watson laid the matter before District-Attorney Nicoll. Jansen was arrested Wednesday and held by Police Justice Grady for trial. He is on the high road to the pentientiary again. Jansen refused to see a reporter at the Jefferson Market Prison to-day.

He wrote love letters to her and in Dec. 1887 was sent to the pentientiary for a year.

n the Yorkville Police Court, charged with A Missouri Murderer Taken from the Sheriff and Lynched

> [BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. ] NEVADAS, Mo., Jan. 23 .- When the 7.30 lissouri Pacific train arrived here last evening a mob of 250 men from Barton County got off, proceeded to the county jail and de manded that the sheriff should turn over to them Hepler, the man who murdered Mrs Goodly and her little son in that county last Sunday evening.
> The Sheriff made some resistance, but the mob proceeded to knock in the deors with tools which they had secured by breaking

The mob made no holse or demonstration while getting the prisoner. Sheriff Garrett, of Barton County, yesterday had a talk with Hepier in jail, and the prisoner confessed the having murdered the woman and child, but said he did not know what he did it for.

The mob took Hepier back to Lemar and he was hanged there in the Court-House yard immediately upon their arrival.

All last evening Harriett street was thronged with coasters. About 7 o'clock Miss Weish, who was walking upon litverdule avenue, essayed to cross Harriott street. She was struck by a twenty-foot bob-sled. Before she could rise another sled struck her upon the head, rendering her unconscious. A third struck her, inflicting further injuries. It is thought that her skull was fractured. She has also received several internal injuries. Her recovery is not probable.
